15. Reminders to students and faculty--

Spring is coming and there are plenty of sidewalks available. Please use them rather than tracking mud into the schools.

Pedestrians (that means those who walk) between buildings are to use the sidewalks, where available, or stay to the north side of the street where sidewalks are not available. Vehicles are larger and therefore have the right of way in the street. Please be courteous and stay out of their way.

Drivers - 8th street (the one out front of school) is not a raceway. NASCAR is not coming here to look for their next driver. Please, mind the speed limit of 20 mph. There really are lives at stake.

To both students and faculty who use the parking lots - The lines in the parking lot are meant to be parked in between. Give it a try.

Sub-Committee for muddy footprints, traffic flow, pedestrian safety, and white lines.

16. Today is Read Across America Day! It is also the birthday of Dr. Seuss. If you have time today think about your favorite Dr. Seuss book and better yet, take time to read it. Dr. Suess would like that!
