08. Attention Students and Faculty! You may not capture video after logging on using your regular username and password. Doing so saves the video to the fileserver, making your video program operate inefficiently, and doing so uses too much room on the fileserver. In order to make videos, you must capture your video to the local hard drive; you must have a special account, which Mr. Hannan will set up for you. Contact him if you need to make videos.
